William Harrigan Admits 'Scuffle' With Elderly Victim

William Lawrence Harrigan, 49-year-old Redwood City rigger, Wednesday was formally charged with murder for the death of 73-year-old James Richard Knapp, 739 Chestnut St.

The complaint charging murder was sworn to by Redwood City Police Sgt. S. E. Douglass.

A post mortem examination showed that Knapp, who died at Community Hospital Sunday night, succumbed to a brain hemrorhage caused by external blows.

Harrigan has admitted, according to police, that he had been in a "scuffle" with Knapp at the latter's cabin on Chestnut St. early Friday morning. Knapp, who lives alone, was found unconscious on his bed Saturday morning, when a neighbor investigated his absence. He had last been seen by neighbors Thursday night.

Knapp died without regaining consciousness.

Harrigan is alleged to have made a statement to two persons that he was going to kill Knapp, police said.

Knapp, a widower, had resided in Redwood City 15 years. He was the father of Leo and Roy Knapp of Redwood City. Funeral services were held this morning. Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park.

Judge Refuses Wallace Writ

Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure denied a write of habeus copus to William Freeman Wallace, 22, of 308 Elm St., who will be sent back to prison on a Mann Act charge.

The probation department reported Walace was picked up by officers when he assaulted three employes of a San Mateo theater.

Records disclosed he had been sentenced in November, 1942, to five years in the federal reformatory at Inglewood, Colo., but later was paroled.

Court attaches said he would be sent to McNeil Island to serve about three years.

Investigate Suicide

Dep. Sheriff Adolph Waldeck went to Sharp Park Wednesday to investigate the report of a suicide of a Sharp Park woman, whose name was not immediately learned. The sheriff's office received the call at 12:25 p.m.

Redwood City Joins World in Welcoming Peacetime New Year

Dawn broke peacefully over a sleepy Redwood City Tuesday after riotous celebrating last night in many homes and public gatherings to greet the first peacetime new year in five years.

Largest groups gathered at the IOOF Hall, where nearly 500 celebrants ushered in 1946; Oleson's Garage, where several hundred more were guests of the San Mateo County Horseman's Assn., and Sequoia Yacht Club, where a packed house screamed its approval of the New Year.

Meanwhile, one million frenzied revelers jammed Times Square in traditional fashion at midnight as New York and the nation gave a tumultuous welcome to 1946.

The throng, whose size was officially estimated by Police Comsr. Arthur Wallander, let go with a gigantic cacophony of shouts, whistles, horn blasts and shrieks of joy as the New Year rolled around.

The celebration, however, was one of the most orderly in years despite the unleashed hilarity, Wallander said. Up into the early morning hours no serious accidents or property damage had been reported. More than 2000 policemen were on duty in the Times Square area.

New York night spots were packed with celebrants, with estimated attendance ranging from 15 to 50 per cent greater than last year.

An unusual aspect was a record-breaking demand for champagne. One hotel manager said it exceeded that of any New Years Eve in his 33 years' experience, and another said it was the greatest to his knowledge in more than 30 years.

Elsewhere in the nation the revelry was on a similar scale, though there was prayer along with the riotousness. Masses were attended in Catholic churches while many Protestant houses of worship opened their doors for midnight services.

City buses in Detroit provided a "whoopmobile" service for those whose footing became unsteady during the course of the night. The buses went as much as two blocks off their courses to take passengers home after 1 a.m.

New Orleans staged a blowout of Mardi Gras proportions on Canal St. and Sugar Bowl football teams were feted at a hotel party. One enterprising candidate for Mayor issued a blanket invitation for everybody in town to come to his own celebration and promised music, drinks, food and entertainment for all.

San Francisco, fearful of a night reminiscent of the V-J celebration which resulted in great damage on Market St. took steps to prevent such a recurrence and merchants boarded up their store windows.

In Washington, civil service employes, who had a three-day holiday, whooped it up in a manner comparing with the roaring twenties. President Truman was aboard his yacht, preparing two radio speeches.

Los Angeles hotels bulged with crowds on hand for the annual Rose Bowl fiesta, and in Hollywood film stars turned out en masse for parties at the celebrated night spots.

Atherton Estate Sold for $300,000

Indications that San Mateo County will continue its boom in building and real estate sales in 1946 were given Wednesday with the filing of transactions here totaling $488,000.

Biggest of the transactions, filed with County Recorder T. Clark Rice, was the $300,000 sale of the William Herbst estate on El Camino Real between Almendral and Stockbridge Aves., Atherton.

The 55-acre tract, sold by California Pacific Title Insurance Co., on behalf of the estate, to Fred Baldocchi, San Francisco financier and real estate dealer, will be divided into more than a $1,000,000 residential subdivision.

The estate will be divided into one-acre parcels, on which homes ranging from $25,000 to $30,000 are to be constructed. A pear orchard is now on the site.

The Goldfield Consolidated Mines Co. (Dalmo Victor) has sold its plant No. 6 on Ralston Ave., Belmont, former army barracks, to J. A. Winter for $80,000. Dalmo Victor plans to continue to lease the property, on which it is engaged in the manufacture of radar intercommunicating systems. The buildings are on the site of the former dog track.

A 10-acre site on Forest View Rd., Hillsborough, to be divided into ½-acre homesites, has been sold by W. P. F. Brawner to Lloyd Simpson, San Mateo builder and developer and William D. Dickie of San Francisco, for $80,000. The tract is a portion of the George A. Newhall estate. Simpson was one of the developers of the Buri-Buri Rancho.

What If Everything Went Up?

If everything went up 20%, or 30%, or 40% we'd all be worse off than when we started.

We'd get $1.20 or $1.30 or $1.40 where we once got $1, but we'd pay $1.20 or $1.30 or $1.40 for things for which we once paid $1. And the dollars we had saved up would no longer buy a real dollar's worth.

This is inflation. It may look like more money but it's just a lot of hot air.

The only way for us all to improve things for ourselves is for us all to produce more, so that we can earn more and buy more with what we earn.

Right now a lot of people in America are making the mistake of thinking in terms of more dollars instead of more goods.

But each feller wants to be the exception. He says, "I want more money, but I don't want prices to go up."

But, if more and more money is paid for wages in manufacturing plants, this is bound to force prices up.

And, since only 1 out of 5 of us is employed in manufacturing plants, this would mean that the others (the farmers, storekeepers, gas station operators, teachers, etc.,) who do not get these wage increases would not be able to pay the higher prices for manufactured goods. So — business drops off and jobs drop off. Instead of getting more money, we would get less.

Motorists Rush to Buy License Tabs

Dozens of people, intent on being among the first to buy their 1946 automobile license tabs in Redwood City, were in line at 9 a.m. Wednesday when the San Mateo County office of the California Highway Patrol began selling the metal strips.

First to shove their money over the counter were Mrs. E. P. Hufetcher and Tony Rodriguez, both of Redwood City.

Registration of automobiles will continue here until Feb. 4, Capt. E. F. Cassell of the highway patrol reported.

He pointed out that addresses of the registration card should be correct, because the 1946 license will be sent to the address printed there. Should there be a change of address, th pink slip should accompany the renewal application, he added.

Mail applications should not be sent to the Redwood City office, Captain Cassell explained, because there is no way here of taking care of them.

Two clerks have been added to the local staff to handle the rush.

Legislators Receiving Butano Plans

Final steps toward introducing a joint resolution for state acquisition of the Butano Forest next Monday at the special session of the legislature were being taken Wednesday by Senator Harry L. Parkman, Assemblyman Harrison W. Call and members of the Butano committee.

In San Francisco, Senator Parkman was beginning to mail mimeographed forms of the recently committee-approved Butano resolution to members of the state legislature with individual letters urging favorable action.

Meanwhile City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy reports that Assemblyman Call and Assemblyman Loren Middough, writer of Assembly Bill 1810 which has necessitated clasification, will introduce the joint resolution in the assembly.

Call has disclosed that he does not expect much opposition from the assembly but states that the measure might hit a snag in the senate. The resolution, first drafted by former State Senator Herbert C. Jones of San Jose, says that it is the intent of the legislature in Assembly Bill 1810 that such areas as the Butano be included in the regions which can be purchased under the $5,000,000 inland park fund.

Previously state park commissioners declined to accept the 5000-acre Redwood tract in South San Mateo County as coming under the "inland park" heading because the county also extends along the sea coast.

Saddle—Without Horse—Disappears From Stable

James Walters and Eddie Silva, of the Palomar Stables on Skyline Blvd. at Coast Hwy., are watching all horsemen these days.

They're looking for a saddle, two horse blankets, a snaffle bit bridle and a hackamore, worth about $200, which some burglar got at their stables before dawn Sunday.

Walters told Sheriff James J. McGrath the burglar secured entry to the stables' tack room sometime between 2 a. m. and 6 p. m. Sunday, by taking the pins from the door hinges of the locked room. Deputies Jack Hosford and Everett Heagney investigated the case.

Infants are not able to focus their eyes accurately until about three months after birth.

2 Suicides On Peninsula In Weekend

Two Peninsula men committed suicide Saturday night, police in San Carlos and Santa Clara reported Monday.

Dead are Walter Hans K. Korby, 34, German refugee who resided in San Mateo, and Raymond Norman Rubin, 18, employe of a San Bruno furniture store, who lived with his parents on their ranch at El Camino Real in Santa Clara.

Korby fulfilled his threat to commit suicide Saturday night by walking into the path of the southbound Lark in San Carlos.

Despite telephone pleas of his wife and family physician who, with San Mateo Police Sgt. John Murphy, had been summoned to the family home, Korby took his own life near the San Carlos train depot after 9 o'clock, police said.

Korby, purchasing agent for a San Francisco refining company, told his wife, Mary, he was planning suicide as he left their home at 606 North Idaho St., San Mateo.

Shortly afterwards ,he telephoned his home from the San Carlos depot to report to the physician the location of his will and other personal effects.

San Carlos police, who earlier had received an all-points bulletin for Korby, and who had been unable to locate his car because of an erroneous license plate number, were called to the depot at 10:40 p.m.

Frank Campbell, Southern Pacific maintenance man, had discovered Korby's mangled body 114 feet south of Holly St. between the two main tracks.

He had been asked to check the tracks by the crew of the Lark who, upon arriving in San Jose, found blood spattered on the engine.

Korby had been in ill health, his widow told San Carlos police.

In addition to his widow, he leaves two small daughters.

Rubin, a native of San Mateo, pumped a shotgun shell into his heart as he lay in the winery loft of the family ranch. He was discovered by members of his family before midnight after they noticed his prolonged absence from the house. Earlier in the evening he had taken his shotgun and gone out "to chase away stray dogs that were hollering around the ranch."

None of his family could give any reason for the youth's action. They said he was in good health and apparently did not object to the idea of being drafted into the army in the near future.

Rubin was taken to Palo Alto Hospital but was pronounced dead upon arrival. He attended schools in San Jose. Funeral services were held this afternoon from the Roller & Hapgood Mortuary. Interment followed at Alta Mesa Memorial Park.

The SS Robert M. LaFollette, liberty ship scheduled to unload 70,000 bags of cement at the Port of Redwood City, was Wednesday diverted to Stockton after her surplus cargo had been sold, Port Mgr. A. A. Moran announced.

The LaFollette, which had already tied up at the Redwood City wharf, will sail out today and will tomorrow be replaced by the SS James K. Kelly, loaded with mail, personal effects and miscellaneous cargo returned from the Pacific, he said.

The SS Juluan Dubuque with a similiar cargo, is standing by in the bay to come into the port when the Kelly has discharged its cargo, he added.

The campaign was extended from Dec. 8 to Dec. 31, and the final report for Redwood City showed $315,730.75 in E bonds, $283,487 in other series, $572,276.40 in allocations. Pedestrian First Local Auto Fatality

Isaac Garcia, 67, succumbed Tuesday afternoon to injuries suffered in a hit-run, automobile-pedestrian accident New Year's Eve to become Redwood City's first traffic fatality of 1946. He was the third to die from a traffic accident in the county this year.

Mr. Garcia, who a life-time resident of this area, was critically injured in a similar accident in August, 1944, at the same site where an unidentified motorist knocked him to the pavement Monday night, Redwood City police reported

In the first accident, he suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries that kept him hospitalized for more than a month.

At that time he was rendered aid by the motorist who had struck him.

However, Monday night, the driver failed to stop and Mr. Garcia was thrown to the pavement with a broken leg and serious kidney injuries.

A resident of 47 Iris St., Mr. Garcia was crossing El Camino Real at Willow St. near midnight when he was hit, police said.

Police were given only a vague description of the car, although witnesses reported the driver appeared in a drunken condition.

Mr. Garcia, was born in Oakland. He leaves a son, Steven, who has been visiting friends in North Dakota.

Funeral services are pending arrival of the son from the East. Arrangements will be in charge of Layng & Tinney Funeral Home.

California Highway Patrol officers reported a freak accident Wednesday at 7 a.m. when a northbound car driven by Ernest W. Jones, 60, of 2436 Ashby Ave., Berkeley, hit a truck tire on Bayshore Hwy. north of Millbrae Rd. and struck an oncoming truck after going out of control.

Driver of the truck was Rupert I. Morean, 52, of 1829 Gum St., San Mateo.

Carl S. Rebeiro of 651 North 15th St., San Jose, claimed ownership of the tire when he telephoned the CHP from South San Francisco and explained his truck had thrown dual tires along the highway unbeknown to him.

A motorist had halted him and pointed out the missing wheels, Rebeiro told patrolmen.

Palo Alto Woman, Soldier First Traffic Fatalities In S.M. County in 1946

San Mateo County's 1946 traffic toll stood at two dead Tuesday in the wake of a series of accidents that left at least 14 injured, six of them seriously.

Margarite Schell, 21, of 846 Bryant St., Palo Alto, became the fisrt traffic fatality of the year when she and her companion, Thomas Siverton, 21, recently discharged navy man, were struck by a car on Bayshore Hwy. in East Palo Alto, California Highway Patrol officers reported.

She was pronounced dead upon arrival at the Palo Alto Hospital.

Siverton, who resides at 281 Santa Marguerita Ave., North Palo Alto, was admitted for treatment of a fractured leg and cuts and abrasions.

Officers said the pair was crossing the highway South of University Ave., when struck by a car driven by William L. Canole, 21, of 356 Kipling St., Palo Alto. Canole is an army officer stationed at Perin Field, Tex.

Miss Schell was employed as a secretary at the Veteran's Facility in Palo Alto. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schell.

A soldier was dead and nine persons were injured in a three-car crash on the Coast Hwy. at Sharp Park Tuesday at 2:01 a.m., Highway Patrolmen reported.

PFC Al Deroy LaBounty, Jr., 19, of Sharp Park, home on furlough from Ft. Sill, Okla., died at Tanforan Hospital at 4:30 a.m., Tuesday.

Victor Magrin, 44, prominent Pedro Valley artichoke rancher, suffered an eye injury and was in Mills Memorial Hospital today as a result of the accident in which the car he was driving, after crashing head-on into the one driven by the soldier, was hit by a northbound navy jeep.

Three sailors in the jeep were in serious condition at Tanforan Hospital where they were taken after Dr. Earl C. Kading of Sharp Park administered emergency treatment.

CHP officers reported LaBounty was northbound from a Sharp Park New Year's party when his car and Magrin's hit head-on.

While the two cars were broadside on the road, and passersby were rendering aid to the seven persons injured in the first crash, the jeep crashed into the darkened wreck and caught fire.

Otis G. Gardner, 23, driver, was dragged from the burning vehicle by Mrs. Minnie B. Parks of Pescadero who noted he was trapped in the front seat and hidden from view.

One of the sailors, seriously injured, was given an injection of adrenalin in the heart by Dr. Kading who also gave emergency treatment to Alice Lovier, 15, of Vallemar, who suffered serious facial injuries.

Miss Lovier, Thomas Naylor, 20, of Colma, and Beverly Spurlock, 16, of Sharp Park, were passengers in the LaBounty car which was nearly sheared lengthwise by the impact, the CHP reported. The latter two suffered minor cuts and abrasions and were sent to their homes after the crash.

Mrs. Jennie Magrin, 36, and Mary Magrin, 13, suffered cuts, abrasions and shock in the accident.

Navy officials Tuesday said Gardner was stationed at Sharp Park at the Tanforan annex, and Kenneth J. McCormick, 21, passenger in the jeep, was also stationed at Sharp Park.

However, information was lacking on Donald F. Randall, third sailor in the jeep, whose station today was beirg sought by Tanforan officials.

The jeep was totally demolished by fire and the other two vehicles were total wrecks, patrolmen said.

The Rockaway Beach fire truck responded to stand by the burning jeep.

Isabell Teel, 23, of 122 Avila Ave., San Mateo, suffered minor injuries when the motorcycle on which she was a passenger skidded on Woodside Rd. east of the Redwood City limits Monday, the CHP reported. Driver of the motorcycle was John D. Maggach, 25, of 20473 Stanton Ave., Hayward, a merchant seaman.

Four persons escaped injury when a sedan driven by Arthur J. DeAlba, 19, of 442 Ellsworth St., San Francisco, a student, collided with a car driven by Lucylle Anne Dedo Bailley, 24, of Half Moon Bay on Skyline Blvd. east of the Half Moon Bay intersection. Mrs. Bailley's car overturned on the roadway and she was taken to Community Hospital by county ambulance for treatment.

Mrs. Juanita Hildebrand, 27, 964 Laurel Ave., San Carlos, suffered neck injuries Tuesday when the car driven by her husband was involved in a headon collision on El Camino Real near Greenwood St., in San Carlos at 1:45 o'clock.

Driver of the other car, Henry A. Pope, 27, 18 Cranfield Rd., was arrested on charges of drunken driving. He was held in the county jail in $250 bail.

Victim of a hit-run driver was Isaac Garcia, 67, 47 Hazel St., who was struck down as he crossed El Camino Real at Willow St. Taken to Community Hospital, he was found to be suffering from a fractured right leg and severe kidney injuries. Attendants said his condition was critical .Rdewood City police said he was struck by a Buick sedan driven by someone apparently intoxicated.

S.M. Girl Reports Attempted Attack

SAN MATEO—A 16-year-old girl reported to police Sunday that a man had attempted to throw her into an automobile, but that she fought him off and fled.

The girl, Virginia Loone, 202 Villa Terrace, San Mateo, said she had left her home and was walking along Highland Ave., shortly after 2 p. m. Sunday, when she noticed a car driving slowly along beside her.

She said the auto then passed her and stopped about a block ahead. A man got out and stood on the sidewalk, she said, but she thought nothing of it, believing he was going into a house there.

However, as she started to pass the man, he grabbed her by the arm and attempted to throw her into the car, she reported.

Miss Loone said she screamed and fought the man off.

Breaking loose, she turned and ran back to her home, where she told her father, Walter Loone, of the incident. He immediately returned to the scene but was unable to find the man or the car. Loone then notified police, who searched the area unsuccessfully. Miss Loone said the man was about 26 years old and was driving an old, brown sedan. She was unable to describe him further.

San Carlos Baby Leads Parade

Old Doc Stork seemed a bit coy Tuesday.

He brought only two Redwood City area babies as New Year's presents to their parents.

And both of those babies—one a boy, the other a girl—were preceded by the birth of a San Mateo County boy at Mills Memorial Hospital in San Mateo.

The girl, born to Mr. and Mrs. Egan Strandberg of 917 Holly St., San Carlos, at the Palo Alto Hospital at 3:15 o'clock Tuesday morning, leads the New Year's baby parade.

The boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kraft, 67 Central Ave., Redwood City, at Mary's Help Hospital in San Francisco, at 8:20 o'clock Tuesday morning, seems to be the second place contender.

The Strandberg baby weighed 7 pounds, 6 ounces. Mother, child and father are all doing nicely, the hospital said.

Final official announcement of the New Year's first babies will be listed in tomorrow's Tribune. On the basis of today's checks with the hospitals, though, it looks like the winners are:

(1) Girl Strandberg, Palo Alto Hospital, 3:15 a.m.

(2) Boy Kraft, Mary's Help Hospital, 8:20 a.m.

Brisbane Man Jailed After Family Tussle

John Irwin McCloud, 52, Brisbane, was held in the county jail Monday New Year's Day on charges of drunkenness and disturbance of the peace after a visit to Community Hospital for treatment of superficial injuries.

Dep. Sheriff Louis Lodi reported McCloud was jailed after he went to visit his estranged wife, Helen, at the family home. Mrs. McCloud, seeking a divorce, had secured a temporary restraining order in superior court to prevent him from molesting her. He was treated at the hospital for a cut eye and chin.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOOSE

So the rains came. And it has rained every day, save one, since school let out for the holidays. The kids can't get out of the house to play and they are driving their parents nuts. So what? So Santa Claus should have been shot for bringing Raymond that football. The interior of the Caboose cabin has been done completely over . . . by the children.

★ ★ ★

Christmas afternoon we sneaked out to the garage for a few minutes of peace and quiet . . . and to try out some new hair tonic. We returned to the house just in time to see Ray kick off from the north end of the living room into the Christmas tree. Six or eight of his neighborhood gang were at the South end of the living room to receive the kick-off. They had been running signals for an hour . . . while we were in the garage . . . and all the time we thought it was another storm blowing up.

★ ★ ★

But these youngsters must have an outlet for their energy. If the weather keeps them indoors, so much the worse for the indoors. And their parents' nerves! Yesterday was the first dry day in three weeks, so the football got a workout in the street. The neighborhood girls were playing the neighborhood boys. To be more exact, Sharon Winkleblock's all-stars, including Missey O'Neill, Ann Formico and Pat Caboose were playing the Brewster-Grand "Dead-enders," captained by Ray Caboose (because he owned the ball).

★ ★ ★

When we first noticed this unusual game, the girls had the ball, and the boys were poised over them in such a threatening manner we felt sorry for the girls. We suggested to Captain Ray that his men withdraw a couple of feet from the line of scrimmage in order to give the girls a little handicap. "Handicap my eye," replied Captain Ray, "they're already leading eighteen to nothing." We learned later the game ended 24 to 0 in favor of the Winklebleck all-stars.

Ah yes, these children. They're a lot of trouble, but always interesting . . . and, to Caboose, a source of never-ending inspiration. Saturday evening Mrs. C. was going through Jimmy's school jeans. From one pocket she produced the following items: three playing cards, a month-old Bay Meadows racing program, four beer-bottle caps and a rosary.

Wrex Cruse, first president and principal organizer of the Redwood City Commuters Club, was a visitor in Redwood City yesterday. Wrex, who sold his home here several months ago and moved to the city, has been in Honolulu for the past six weeks establishing an Islands office of T.W.A. He advises that he has already purchased a home in Honolulu and will move his family there early in January. He will be manager of the airlines office in Hawaii for his company.

We shuttled about with Cruse yesterday, calling on the trade. At President Brizee's home we met up with some of the stalwarts of the club including Vice Prexy McKeegan, Chester Armstrong, Bill Curran, Bert Morgan, Fred Jaeger and others. It was there we learned the next directors meeting will be held at Roy Fredlund's home, Tuesday, Jan. 8, and the regular monthly dinner meeting will be held at Grace & Pierre's Thursday, Jan. 10.

Steel, Packinghouse Walkout Indicated In Labor Disputes

More than 6000 San Mateo County persons may be idled by strikes by Jan. 16 as the result of labor developments which Wednesday added 40 CIO Packinghouse Workers to the list of current or scheduled strikers in the county.

Harold Green, business agent of Packinghouse Workers Local 263, this morning said members of the union employed in the Swift & Co. plant were ready to join the nation-wide strike on Jan. 16, according to announcement made from Chicago headquarters of the union today.

The South San Francisco plant is the only one in the Bay Area where the CIO Packinghouse Workers Union—which has a nation-wide membership of 200,000—is certified, and is the only one to be affected by the strike.

Approximately 700 persons, majority of whom are AFL, are employed there.

One thousand South San Francisco CIO Steelworkers, whose international recently announced a country-wide strike for Jan. 14, are ready to walk off the job on that date, Arnold Campo, international representative, said in Oakland this morning.

Members of CIO Steelworkers Local 1069, the South San Francisco strikers, would idle the plants of Bethlehem Steel Co., Metal & Thermit Corp., E. H. Edwards Co. and California Wire Cloth Corp.

More than 4000 persons, approximately 3220 employed in South San Francisco, have been strike-affected by the Oct. 29 walkout of Lodge 68 Machinists. Negotiations in the machinist dispute have been broken off for more than a month.

The nation-wide packinghouse workers' strike would involve approximately 147 plants across the nation, and is being called in support of union demands for a 25 cents an hour wage boost. The request represents a 30 per cent increase, Green explained.

Local 263 of the Packinghouse Workers has a membership of approximately 150 persons, but only 40 of those are certified to bargain with Swift & Co., Green said. The 40 men comprise the maintenance crew at the plant.

The local was granted its charter in July, 1944, and was certified at the South San Francisco plant a year ago.

Membership in other packinghouses there would not be affected by the walkout, Green asserted.

Whether an estimated 350 members of the AFL Butchers' Union, Local 508, at Swift & Co. would support the CIO strike remained unanswered today although Michael (Mike) Guerra, business representative of the AFL union, declared the relations between the CIO and AFL unions had been "very friendly."

The pending strike had not yet been discussed at AFL meetings, he said.

Local 508 membership in the Swift, Armour and United Packing Co. plants in South San Francisco recently were granted a $2 daily pay boost, he added.

The CIO Steelworkers, in a Nov. 28 NLRB election held at the four South San Francisco plants, joined workers throughout the nation in approving a strike in support of wage demands.

"Nothing new" was reported in negotiations between the Production Workers of Lodge 1327 and the California Metal Trades Assn. which represents Dalmo Victor, Inc. and the Ampex Electric & Mfg. Co. in San Carlos.

The Dalmo Victor plant has been strike-bound since Oct. 29 by machinist pickets.

Production workers, who picketed the San Bruno plant of Eitel-McCullough, Inc., have withdrawn pickets there following isuance of a court order limiting their numbers, although machinists of Lodge 68 have continued to picket the non-union plant.

Threatened strike of Commercial Telegraphers' Nnion on Jan. 7 appeared averted today as union representatives predicted Western Union Co. acceptance of WLB recommendations of 12 cents an hour wage boosts.

Plane Crash Claims Life Of S.C. Man

Fears that Vincent P. Dunn, 30, 300 Manzanita Dr., San Carlos, lost his life in a pre-Christmas airplane crash seemed confirmed Tuesday as a navy air search group tentatively identified his body as one of six found in wreckage 20 miles North of San Diego.

Dunn, a member of the international executive board of the Commercal Telegraphers' Union, and regional chairman for the Pacific Division of the CTU, left El Paso by plane Dec. 21 to be with his wife, Jane, and their three small children for Christmas.

The plane was reported missing a few hours after it left El Paso. Last word from the pilot, R. D. Baer of La Jolla, came by plane-to-airport radio at San Diego. Baer said he was trying to make a landing in a rainstorm because the plane was running out of gas.

Search for the plane continued after the twin-motored commercial type plane failed to reach San Diego airport that night. The Associated Press reported today that the navy air search group discovered the wreckage late yesterday.

Tentative identification of Dunn, and army officer, Lt. William H. Hall, 22, Vista, Calif., and Ensign Joseph Mayo, 24, Stockton, has been made. Identity of the other two passengers who boarded the plane at El Paso had not yet been checked.

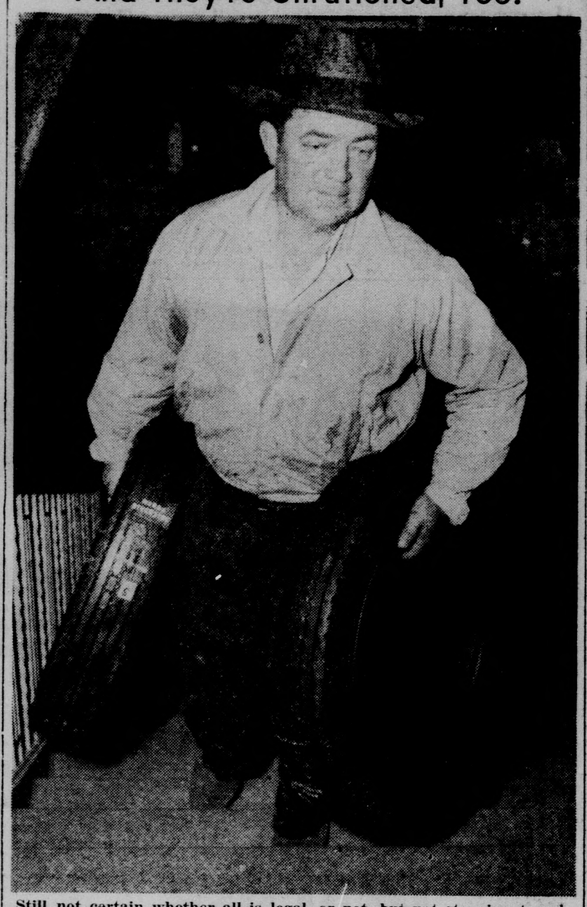
Members of Dunn's family, stunned at the news he apparently had been killed in the crash, said they had been hoping against hope the plane might have made a forced landing in some isolated spot in Southern California or Nevada and that Dunn would be found alive.

His brother, confirming the fact the family had received word of Dunn's death, declared bitterly, "A fine New Year's for us!"

Associates of Dunn seemed equally shocked at the tragic news. An employe of Western Union Telegraph Co., Dunn had worked for nearly 15 years in San Francisco. He was recently granted leave of absence from his duties as commercial representative for the company to devote his full efforts to his positon as regional chairman for the CTU.

A student of San Francisco University, Dunn was married only a few years ago. He moved his wife and family to their San Carlos home in 1942.

And They're Unrationed, Too!



Still not certain whether all is legal, or not, but not stopping to ask questions, W. Wilke of Woodside is shown leaving Montgomery Ward's Wednesday morning after buying the first unrationed automobile tires to be sold here in fours. OPA controls went off tires yesterday.

End of Tire Rationing Fails to Cause Rush

Local tire dealers found Wednesday that the end of tire rationing had little effect, but that their limited supplies were holding up as motorists began to realize they could walk into a shop and buy without OPA certificates.

Montgomery Ward, which has one of the largest supplies of new tires, reported an adequate number in almost all sizes to handle the demand, and Davies Auto Co. found a similar situation existed.

Harry Feldman, who specializes in retreads, said that although the quantity of tires isn't up to pre-war levels, he didn't anticipate any trouble taking care of his trade.

All merchants, however, figured that unless they are supplied with new materials soon that the city might have a tire shortage, since the tires on hand, which have been accumulating, couldn't handle a full-scale rush by car owners to trade in their old tires for new ones.

Woman Jailed On Liquor Charge

Charged with violation of Sec. 61A of the alcoholic beverages act, Mrs. Lois Cline, 1837 Jefferson Ave., was arrested by deputies of Sheriff James J. McGrath Monday. She was reelased on $250 cash bail.

The charge, made in a complaint signed by Emerson J. Miller, State Board of Equalization liquor enforcement officer, alleges she sold liquor to a 19-year-old sailor in an El Camino Real night club Dec. 26.

Mrs. Cline, a waitress at the club, is the mother of the late Kay Rita Cline, who died Oec. 22 of injuries suffered in an auto accident the previous day.

Walker Resigns Stanford Position

Frank F. Walker's resignation as financial vice president of Stanford was announced simultaneously Wednesday by Walker and Pres. Donald B. Tresidder. It will become effective Jan. 15.

Mr. Walker, an Atherton resident, will return to private business, but has been engaged as consultant by the investment committee of the board of trustees in connection with the handling of endowment funds.

Sequoia Trustees to Decide Size of School Bond Issue

Amount of the Sequoia High School District bond issue which will be offered to voters this Spring will be decided Friday night during the adjourned trustees meeting at 7:30 o'clock in the board room, Supt. A. C. Argo reported Thursday.

Trustees have invited County Treasurer A. H. Sagehorn, Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan, Bankers Carl Ward, J. Elmer Morrish and Jamas Hagan to the public meeting to act as an advisory board. Argo said they would advise the trustees on the monetary issues involved and the best program to follow from the financial point of view."

At the last meeting, Dec. 28, trustees could not decide whether to offer a $1,500,000 bond issue or an $800,000 issue, which would only cover proposed plant expansion at Sequoia. The $1,500,000 figure would include additions to Sequoia and provide for the purchase of a site in the Menlo Park-Atherton region for a new high school or possibly for the erection of a new high school on the already purchased site in the San Carlos-Belmont region.

Meanwhile Supt. Andrew Spinas of the Redwood City Elementary School District reported that the mass meeting scheduled tentatively for Jan. 10 to discuss educational and curriculum needs of the district had been put off indefinitely.

Dr. Jon C. Almack of Stanford University was asked to be the main speaker of the meeting and he has signified that he will be unable to attend such a meeting for at least several weeks, Spinas reported. The superintendent has informed Mrs. Roy Cloud Jr. and Mrs. T. C. Adams, leaders in the move for a curriculum study of the schools, and they have agreed to the indefinite postponement.

Spinas said that trustees will continue their adjourned meeting sometime next week to put the finishing touches to the $600,000 elementary district bond issue election which will be held Feb. 26. Their regular Dec. 27 monthly meeting was adjourned tentatively until Jan. 10. By that time Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan was to have had the election forms prepared.

The superintendent reported that architectural plans for the three-room addition to the Lincoln School should be ready by Jan. 10. Ernest J. Kump Co. is preparing the plans and also undertaking a study of the building needs of the district.

New School Opens On Peninsula

Offering a strong academic program, a new-type private school for boys and girls up to the eighth grade opened at 105 El Camino Real, Burlingame, Thursday. The school has been named the "El Camino Private School."

Overnight and week-end excursions to educational and recreational resorts such as ice rinks, snow mountains, seaside and inland points will be included in the extra-curricular activities. Mrs. Frances McAteer will teach ballet and tap acrobatics and swimming will be taught by former service swimming instructors.

The school will be administered by two former county teachers just returned from the service: Lt. Comdr. John S. Mathews, former Annapolis man who inaugurated the welfare and physical training program at Treasure Island, and ex-Coastguardsman William D. Hammond, former football and track coach at Jefferson Union High School and superintendent of the South San Francisco Recreation Department.

Harriet Believes In Miracles Now

Harriet Callogy, Sequoia High School senior, is convinced Wednesday that miracles do happen.

Miss Callogy, celebrating New Year's Eve in San Francisco with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Callogy, 120 Hudson St., suddenly realized that her purse had been lost somewhere on crowded Market St., and because the city's main street was so packed, none of the Callogys even made an attempt to retrieve it.

Tuesday night the Callogys telephone rang.

"Hello, Miss Callogy," said the voice, "I've found your purse and am mailing it to you."

The voice described himself as Seaman Sam Kuba.

Harriet explained that the purse contained $15 in cash, two railroad passes, and many valuable cards and papers.

Meat shrinks less when cooked at low temperature. Always place roast in the pan fat side up. It will baste itself that way.

Beating Car Shortage

Officials Discount Chamberlain Clue

Torn fragment of a gingham house dress found last weekend on the beach at Montara is not a clue to the disappearance of Thora Chamberlain, 15-year-old San Jose schoolgirl missing since Nov. 2, Dep. Sheriff Walter Moore declared Monday.

The dress fragment—about two feet square—was found half-covered by sand on the beach late Friday by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Frazer, owners of the Montara Hotel.

Their first thought, Moore said today, was to contact San Mateo police in case the dress scrap might be part of the skirt the high school girl wore when she disappeared.

Thomas Henry McMonigle, a San Mateo resident, is now in custody on murder charges resulting from the girl's disappearance. FBI agents, after his arrest, disclosed a purported confession which said he enticed the girl into his car as she was leaving school, shot her in Santa Cruz County, and threw her body from his car over the cliffs on the Coast Hwy. near Devil's Slide, Montara. Since, however, McMonigle has repudiated his confession.

Moore said a check of the dress fragment by deputies from Santa Clara County, after Sheriff James J. McGrath's office here had secured the fragment from San Mateo police late Saturday, proved conclusively the garment portion had not been part of the missing girl's costume.

YMCA Delegates Hear Atom Talk

"At least 27 well-placed atomic bombs would be needed to destroy New York City," Dr. L. B. Loeb, University of California physicist, told 200 high school delegates to the annual Northern California Young Mens Christian Assn., conference at Asilomar on the Monterey Peninsula Saturday.

Local "Y" Secy. Ian Hutcheon reported today that he accompanied three Sequoia High School students, Dick Downey of Redwood City and John Hill and Jim Porter of San Carlos, to the meeting which began Saturday afternoon and extended through yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Loeb led off the conference with a discussion of the historical and technical development of the atomic bomb.

Saturday night Dr. Bertha Mason of San Jose lectured on "Boy and Girl Relationships." She emphasized the importance and understanding among boys and girls in their everyday relationships and encouraged respect for each other. Topics discussed included the disadvantages and advantages of high school youths going "steady," most successful marrying ages, use of the family car.

Boy Scout News

Theme of the activities of the Boy Scouts of America, both on a local and national basis, for the year 1946 will be "Scouts of the World—Building Together" it was announced today by E. A. Barrer, scout executive of the San Mateo County Council.

"The idea is more than just a slogan—it gives scouting a definite goal towards which to work," Barrer said, and "we will emphasize outdoor activities to the fullest in this Council and will begin development in some degree on the recently purchased campsite near the Islam Shrine Memorial Park to encourage this phase of the program."

The international flavor will be added locally by participation in the World Friendship Fund which has been set up to aid the re-establishment of Scouting in those countries where the scouting movement was driven "underground" by dictator rule. During the anniversary week observance Feb. 8 to 14, all scout units, cub packs and senior groups will make special collections of uniforms and camping equipment to be sent direct to scout associations in Europe, Asia and the Philippine Islands to aid in the rehabilitation of activities there, it was said.

A meeting of all council scout eaders at St. Paul's Church in Burlingame on Januaryy 17 will present he details of the year's program or the council and will initiate the participation in nationwide and international activities, Mr. Barrer concluded.

Mark Ryan Starts 31st Year as Fire Chief

Mark E. Ryan Tuesday began his 31st year as fire chief of Redwood City.

Named to the post of fire chief on Jan. 1, 1915, he assumed charge of a volunteer department that numbered four hose companies, a hook and ladder company and a chemical company. A then-new chemical truck had just been purchased by the city to make the department's first acquisition of a motored fire rig.

Today, the department includes more than 15 full-time paid men, seven vehicles, and promise of two new pieces of pumping apparatus for the comnig year, in addition to increased fire fighting facilities planned as part of the postwar public works program.

A native of New York, Ryan began his career as a lineman, and moved to the West Coast in 1906—just before the San Francisco earthquake.

He joined Hose Company 4, then located where Davies Auto Co. now stands, and became active with the volunteer department that included the town's leading citizens and was the center of much civic life.

During World War I, he saw the volunteer companies amalgamated at a mass meeting in Forester's Hall, and supervised the chemical rig which was kept by William Chubbeck in a downtown garage.

Appointment of S. E. Douglass and Bert L. Werder as the city's first two paid firemen, construction of the main fire station on Middlefield Rd. in 1920 (Ryan recalls how firemen rounded up voters in a Model T Ford and to them to the polls get badly-needed votes when the bond issue appeared doomed at a late afternoon hour), construction of a sub-station at Myrtle St. and Jefferson Ave., appointment of a full-time paid chief in 1931, and disbandonment of the volunteer department in favor of a paid-staff—these were among the stages of growth in the fire department.

In addition to his duties as fire chief, Ryan owned and operated an electrical store here between 1913 and 1931, and was active in city and county government.

He was chairman of the Board of Freeholders which in 1929 set up the city charter, and was elected to the county Board of Freeholders in 1932 when the San Mateo County charter was written.

He served as a member of the board of trustees from April, 1918, to 1926, and was mayor of the Town of Redwood City in 1920 and 1921.

In 1928, he was named president of the Pacific Coast Fire Chief's Assn. whose membership is comprised of 11 western states.

Quiz Rigger In Death Here

Redwood City police and the district attorney's office Monday questioned William Lawrence Harrigan, 49-year-old rigger, before determining criminal charges against him in the death of James Richard Knapp, 73, who died at Community Hospital last night.

Harrigan, who resides at 833 Douglas Ave., Redwood City, was taken into custody by Police Sgt. S. E. Douglass yesterday afternoon while Knapp was alive but unconscious at the hospital.

Booked on a charge of assault to do bodily harm, Harrigan admitted he had been in "a scuffle" with Knapp at the latter's cabin at 739 Chestnut St., early Friday morning.

According to police, Mrs. Carolina Adreina, owner of the cabin where Knapp lived alone, the man was last seen Thursday night, although sounds of a fight and disturbance were heard by Mrs. Adreina early Friday morning.

When he failed to appear Saturday morning, she investigated, and found him lying across the bed.

She summoned police who took the bruised and still unconscious man to the hospital.

He died without regaining consciousness, police said.

Special Investigator Frank Marlowe and Chief Dep. Dist. Atty. A. S. Whitmore were slated to discuss filing of charges against Harrigan with Sergeant Douglass this afternoon.

Cause of Knapp's death was to be determined at a post-mortem conducted at the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home today.

Knapp, a widower, had resided in Redwood City for the past 15 years. He leaves two sons, Leo and Roy, of Redwood City.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home. Requiem mass will be celebrated at Mt. Carmel Church at 9:30 a.m., with interment to follow at Holy Cross Cemetery, Menlo Park.

Jealousy Motive In Brunings Divorce

Answering his wife's charges with a blanket denial, Dr. John H. Brunings, 36 Winchester Dr., Atherton, Monday filed a cross-complaint for divorce in superior court charging her with cruelty and "intimacies" with another man. He operates an optical firm in San Francisco.

Brunings' answer and cross-complaint was filed today following Mrs. Panchita Candelma Brunings' original complaint filed last Oct. 2, in which she charged he threatened her life with a gun, struck her on several occasions, and was "extremely jealous."

The couple, who married at Sonoma Aug. 10, 1920, separated last February, according to Mrs. Brunings' original complaint. They have two children, both adults now, Jack and Warren Brunings.

Brunings, charging his wife had "intimacies" with one "Wally Jewett" on numerous occasions at card parties and other affairs, and that she persisted in such "intimacies and improper postures" despite his objections, denies he ever threatened his wife's life with a gun. He alleges he carries a gun, usually, because he has several hundred dollars on his person.

He also denies her original charge he struck her, claiming that after one party at which their children became "noisy" after champagne was served, he "administered moderate discipline" and that she slapped him. He also alleged she was under the influence of friends who caused her to attend races at Bay Meadows and Santa Anita without his approval.

LIQUOR STOLEN

SAN MATEO—Six bottles of liquor and $14 in nickels were stolen from the bar at the Piedmont Hotel, San Mateo, by burglars who broke open the front door early Sunday morning.

The United States will ship to Europe 90,000,000 pounds of peas and beans before the end of 1945.

Thousands of New Homes Being Planned in S.M. County

Already in the offing in the building industry in San Mateo County for 1946 in the unincorporated area alone are some 2500 homes definitely "in the making" and a like number merely in the planning stage.

Contractors who have discussed plans for more than a dozen subdivisions with Bldg. Insp. A. W. Russell have listed the following number of homes in the making:

Two hundred and fifty homes in Redwood Village, just south of Redwood City city limits off Middlefield Rd., being built by Conway & Culligan.

Broadmoor Village, Colma, 40 homes started, 169 more ready to go, 1200 planned.

Capuchino Manor—60 homes being built by Scovel & Son; 25 by Hills Development Co.; 250 homes to be constructed in the vicinity.

Belle Haven City and Newbridge Park—135 homes contemplated.

Newbridge Park between Bayshore Hwy. and the bay—15 homes now being constructed, 50 more to go in.

Menalto Park—18 homes now being constructed.

Merced Golf Club in the north end of the county—2400 lots have been set aside for homes, none started yet.

Barrett & Hilp plans to construct 250 homes in a tract near South San Francisco.

Buri-Buri subdivision—in the talking stage; number planned not ascertained.

Portola Rd. at Woodside—35 houses going in.

Cedar Acres, off Mountain Home Rd.—dozen lots set aside for homes.

Subdivision is going in along Canada Rd. between Jefferson and Godetia Aves.

Forty-one homes are now going on on Santa Cruz Ave. at Avy Ave. intersection, back of Menlo Park.

A subdivision is contemplated in back of Menlo Park, Valparaiso and Orange Aves.

Building Record Set in December

December was a record month in a record year, City Bldg. Insp. L. M. Duncan reported Monday as he closed his building permit books for the year 1945.

The yearly total was $2,384,316, and the December total was $412,583, he announced.

Previous record for the yearly total was set in 1940 when building hit the $1,662,516 mark, he pointed out.

Second busiest month for Duncan in 1945 was November when permits for $335,700 were issued. July was low month with permits totaling only $22,400.

S.F. Supervisors Boost Carfare

Redwood City commuters were counting two-bit pieces Tuesday to ascertain how many three-for-a-quarter tokens they will be able to buy when the San Francisco street car fare is boosted, Jan. 20.

The S. F. Board of Supervisors Monday voted to raise the fare from the present 7-cent rate in the hope of accumulating sufficient revenue to purchase new equipment for the outdated Municipal Rwy. System in that city.

Persons who do not purchase the cut-rate tokens will be obliged to pay 10 cents a ride, completing the jump from the nickel carfare that San Francisco was proud to boast about until a few years ago.

Despite the fact that seven supervisors voted against the raise, the motion carried, because their ballots failed to constitute a two-thirds majority of the total of ten.

Builders Purchase Land in San Mateo

Sale of five parcels of property in the city of San Mateo to Conway and Culligan, home builders, was disclosed Monday as title deed was filed with County Recorder T. Clark Rice.

The property was purchased from California Water Service Co. and will be used for home building, it was learned from San Mateo County Title Co., which filed the deed. Purchase price of the parcels totalled $30,000.
